

relocation services

A chaotic business relocation can defocus your staff and alienate your customers. We've got the whole process down to a fine art, so you can take the move in your stride and marvel at how wonderfully painless the whole process can be.

Move management

As every organisation is different, we like to nominate one of your personnel as an internal leader to co-ordinate the move with us. It helps us understand the particular nuances of your business.

We provide all the rental crates and vehicles and do all the fetching and carrying, employing specialist teams to move IT systems.

We label up all the crates and make sure they get to the right place at the right time so that everyone is operational as soon as possible.

Office moves

Office moves don't have to be stressful or stop your business from operating normally. If managed the right way, it really is possible to leave the old site on Friday afternoon and be functioning as usual in the new one first thing on Monday, even taking care of IT systems and crossover telephone lines.

The key is having the experience to know exactly what needs to be done, the resources and great implementation. Even an accomplished PA or competent project manager will usually forget something. To maintain operational effectiveness, the wisest thing is to leave almost everything to us.
